PERSONAL STATEMENT:
On Practice & Purpose

I'm finishing my Information Systems degree because I have a passion for data creation and organization and implementation of different computer and business processes. My last few years haven't followed a traditional path, since 2022 I was responsible for my grandma's safety in an unhealthy environment until December 14, 2025. I've used these years growing and can produce aretē level results in hostile environments + I built vultureama.com on a phone!

I'm resourceful with limited tools; give me any task, and I'll produce mindblowing deliverables with what's available. I don't need a perfect setup or a fancy title. I need alignment of my values and work.

I'm not just looking for a job. I'm looking for a position where I can grow my knowledge, contribute my experience, and build meaningful praxis.

What I bring is my cornerstone: I show up.

I stay inquisitive to constantly learn. That's not something I perform; it's my lodestar. If you offer me a place to grow, I will return the investment and make sure to give back tenfold in purpose.

I know that reliability is paramount; it's a choice I make every single day to show up, no matter the precipice I face.

I'm looking for remote/hybrid work that offers me relocation assistance with payroll deduction.

I naturally strive for superlative work every day while balancing my personal responsibilities. I have a well behaved, small child with healthy executive function who can join me in a quiet office space.

I bring a disciplined and peaceful presence with interpersonal tools that foster trust, safety, and confidence. I take the trust placed in my role seriously and approach my work with accountability. I value doing things the right way, and the people I work with can rely on me to bring focus, instinct, drive, and any overtime necessary.

Parenthood has strengthened my resolve to build environments where respect is instinctual given. I am capable to help eve the angriest customers achieve a respectful demeanor by the end of our conversation. I'm the person who calmly navigates hard situations by the guidance of morality, situational analysis, and self regulation to figure out how to culminate superlative successes in any environment.

My reliability brings the kind of steadfastness that makes teams grounded and breathe easy.

And I do it all with genuine ethical integrity because that's simply who I am. I know the importance of steadying in loyalty to cultivate trust. I'm not looking for a position to prove I can withstand and then overcome stress. I already know that. I'm here because I would love to work with my community members in an environment that emanates mutual encouragement, project optimization, as well as autonomous stewarding.
